Principal: Jill Carlson reminded everyone about Frosty's Breakfast in December. Volunteers will be needed. Jill believes going through the room parents will be the way to get more volunteers. Reading night is coming up. Reporting period is coming up and then report cards will go out. There was a question about how many students were enrolled. Jill reported 413 kids are enrolled. Jill also reported that E-script is working very well.

Committee Chair Reports:

Penny Cates reported on Box Tops. A check will come in soon. The bags went out today and will be picked up next Wednesday.

Sage Frisinger reported on Membership. The PTA received a bronze certificate. Membership is at 81 members. Pre-school has been included in PTA membership this year.

Sage Frisinger reported on the Newsletter. Sage reminded everyone to email all additions to newsletter to her and she will pass it on to Andrea.

Emily Bach reported on the book fair – The book fair made approximately $3,200 and approximately $750.00 went to Crownhill. It was suggested that the teacher's discount should be reviewed for next year.

Old Business:

STEM: Matt Taran reported that the purchasing has gone well. To date all of the kindergarten, first, second, fourth, and fifth have completed their purchases. Music and third grade are still deciding. Fourth grade has a little money left to spend. There are a number of teachers that have purchased Apple products. Matt will meet with teachers who want help setting up their equipment. Matt also will meet with teachers to do a longer training after grading has been completed. PTA will reinforce that the technology that was purchased is for the kids, not the teachers, and belongs to the district. The property will be laser etched Property of Bremerton Schools. As it stands right now it appears that there will be some money left in the STEM account after all purchases are made. Goal is to have all purchase completed by Christmas break.

New Business:

Sage announced that committee chairs and volunteers are needed for the Golden Acorn/Outstanding Educator award. We also need volunteers for the nominating committee for next year's board.

Sage will contact the vendor for the cookie dough fundraiser in the Spring.

Meeting Adjourned 6:57 pm.
